Award winning singer and storyteller Stuart Stotts will be appearing in a concert at --- on ---. There will be one show, at ---m. The concert promises to be a fun event for families with children of all ages. Come prepared to sing, laugh, and maybe even dance.

The concert is part of the summer library reading program. Stuart will sing songs, tell stories and celebrate the joys of reading. There will be lots of chances to join in for everyone.

Stuart travels throughout the Midwest performing over 250 concerts a year for schools, nursing homes, festivals and community groups. He plays guitar, National Steel Guitar, rainstick, and water drum. Stuart is an enchanting storyteller, with a repertoire of both folktales and personal stories. He is an expert at getting audiences involved through singing, movement and laughter. Stuart is also the author of "World Citizen" and "Music in my Mother's House", and many other songs which are being performed by artists around the country. His songs have been recorded by such artists as Ronnie Gilbert, the Chenille Sisters, Tom Hunter, Tom Pease and many others.

Stuart has six recordings available for sale: "Good Friends" with Laurie Neustadt in 1985, "One Big Dance", "I'm Not Scared" and "Are We There Yet?", tapes for children and families, and "I Carried the News," for grownups. His newest recording is "Celebrate" with Tom Pease, a resource collection of songs for young children and those who sing with them. He is also the co-author of The Bookcase Ghost: A Storyteller's Collection of Wisconsin Ghost Stories available from Midwest Traditions as well "Books in a Box: Lutie Stearns and the Traveling Libraries of Wisconsin." "One Big Dance," was awarded the 1996 Parents' Choice Seal of Approval. Recordings and books will be available for sale at the concert.
